

Chapter 1

Her! Her! Her ! ,Her elder sister called out, don't you want to go to school, today is your first day of school and you are now in Js1. "I'm already in the bathroom "with a loud voice she replied her elder sister. Her got ready to go to school, and left for school on foot because the school is not too far from her house. Her went to school ,saw some new and old faces and made new friends, and went for the school orientation, during the presentation, she noticed a girl kept throwing her glances and had a feeling that the girl didn't like her. so she decided to mind her business and focus on the presentation, then attended a few classes that day and later went home

Her, growing up in an environment full of name calling and high expectations, she was a very slow learner and was always reminded by everyone around her of how her other siblings where better than Her . Her was a 10year old girl who had so much going on at a tender age so a girl not liking her was the least her problem. Her moved from a day student to the school boarding house and at this point, Her was still urinating on the bed at night. The first week of school had just passed .

" Hey Fejiro" her said to the girl that didn't like her" I have noticed that u purposely avoid me, you don't know me so why the attitude"Fejiro answered and said "I know enough to stay away from you or do you want your brother to rape me " Her had both of her elder siblings in the same school as her,so she is shocked at Fejiro reply and so she asked "where did you get this false information from ? Fejiro decided not to answer and left to play.Her was so surprised knowing fully well that she only had one elder brother and and elder sister who where both in Ss2 so where did she get her information from, determined to find her answers she went to ask Fejiro again informing her she only had one elder brother and Fejiro told her "on my first day in school I was called by two js3 seniors who told me that I shouldn't make you my friend that if I was close to you your brother will rape me". Her was shocked by this news and cleared the air with Fejiro and they both became the cat and rat of the school.

Around the middle of the term, Her had a crush on a boy who had followed her to children camp and went to same school with her, they both exchanged love letters and hugs in secret but he never knew Her still bedwet, towards the end of the term, during Christmas period she got into a fight with the boy she liked cause a Teacher caught them while sending love letters to each other, and that period they went on holiday. Her and her family went to a church program named Shiloh so Her prayed to get her period not knowing what would happen on that day . 28th December as her and her family finished morning devotion she went to the toilet to pee and saw blood. While Her was in the toilet, a call came in for her father and he was told that a student of the school just died. This information was given to them because Her's parents were the owner of the secondary she attended, when she came out to ask who has just died, she was told it was the boy she liked who she was planning on reconciling with. Her cried in secret because she didn't want her parents to know she had started having those kind of feelings knowing the type of home she is from.

During resumption the next term, all Her kept hearing was that Ben died to give her blood. This news went round the school because Her sister told people in school that Ben died the same day Her saw her period. Classes started and as usual no matter how much Her tried she took 5th to last position after the end of the school year.

During a new school year, Her was with her best friend when she was called to lend a pen to a boy writing his entrance exams to join js1 while she was now in js2 . Her walked into the class room greeted all her seniors and as she set her eyes on him she blushed because she saw him and liked him and then she handed the pen to him turned and left the hall with a more enticing footstep. After school hours she went to her hostel luckily for her the senior beside her bunk bed was the elder sister to the boy she just met and her name was Sara. Her, my brother gave me this black pen to give you and he said he likes you but my brother doesn't like girls that pee on the bed" Sara told Her this made her so sad because that was one big obstacle". Her don't be sad, are you ready to be waking up twice in the night to go to the toilet Sara asked" but i can't be waking myself" Her replied" "don't worry I would wake you up at night and I will help you with your academics "Sara said . Sara did this every night for two month and this helped her to reduce her habit of wetting the bed.

Happy birthday day to you, happy birthday to you people sang for her while Her and her siblings lived in same school as strangers she celebrated her birthday that was one day in Her life that her family never missed she always celebrated her birthday that day was always a day of no condemnation from any one, Her always wished to have her own children, the term came to an end during Her's birthday period and at the end of this term her took 7th position with the total of 22 students with the help of Sara.

Chapter 2

It was a new school section and all Her could think of was Sara brother that was coming to her school.very early on a Tuesday morning Her sat in her class after leaving the hostel preparing for breakfast when she heard a voice " Good morning" turning back to see who was that she saw Tammy, Sara's brother with an enticing smile she replied saying "Good morning to you too?" " they both smiled at each other and went to have their breakfast together, going to the dinning room and meeting after school hours in the classroom not until one day when we had a new female student whose name was Bella and

Tammy attention was shifted and this hurt Her so much because Tammy came to tell Her that he wanted to breakup but because Her loved him she agreed. Tammy and Her lovely relationship came to a stop and from then on, Tammy always wanted to be with other girls and Her later accepted him back and their relationship became like the saying "if a small child runs and lives home he would surely come back " this went on until they were in jA3

During a mid term holiday Her couldn't go home because her mother brought her friends children to the school Tony and Thelma . Tony and Thelma has been going to the school for a year now because they both lost their mother and on this mid term break they were to travel to see their sisters . That night Tony called Her to the school lab and requested to have sex with her but she declined and said "Tony you are like a brother to me and I haven't even started having sex I'm just 13 and I js3 you are in ss3 please I don't want to and I can't " this pissed Tony but he didn't know that Her had gone to tell Thelma what conspired between them.

Briefly after the mid term break was done Her had a confrontation with Tony, asking her why she told his sister what had happened between them and he was upset and started plotting against Her by using Tammy . Her!Her! Tammy calling out loud" let's talk " she walked up to him asking what they were going to talk about and he said " baby u know I love you and I have been wanting to tell you something " what she said "I want you to give me a blow job"he said she didn't want to but because she loved him she agreed and she did it not knowing this was all Tony's plan. Tony took this matter to the principals and told her that Her has been having sex in school . Her was called out the class to the principal office and when she got there this was what the principal asked "what position have you and Tammy been having sex with? Does he bend you over " Her was shocked at what the principal said to her and she said "I have never had sex talk less of having it with Tammy" the principal shouted at Her and told her to get out of her office (the principal reaction was like that because she didn't like Her mother so she passed out the aggression and wanted to see Her's family down) Her left the office crying because she didn't expect that thus issue was going to be the talk round the school ,this was so with the help of Tony. On getting to the class all the teachers had started call a prostitute and other improper names. While this was going on, the principal called Her's mum to tell her the news. However Her's mum arrived and called Her to explain in detail what had happened and Her told her mother everything without mincing words,after her mum demanded to see Tammy to ask him few questions, when Tammy came she said " I assume this was your first time having sex " and he said "yes ma " she then proceeded to ask him " when you and Her had sex for the first time did she bleed " this was a very technical question to Tammy because he didn't know that Her was raped when she was 7, only her family knows about that, Tammy answered like a regular person and said that " yes she did " and she mother laughed and told him to go and then asked to see Her and she told Her " I am very angry at you because of the blow job you gave to Tammy and that is why I'm going to punish you but I believe you and I know you didn't have sex with him" as the proprietor of the school she made a decision to punish them and as a mother she didn't want to put her daughter business to the world. People started bullying Her calling her all sorts of names, both teachers and students but Fejiro her best friend stood her. By the end of the term, Her decided to join the science class. Tammy parent took him out of the school. Because of the much bullying, Her created a wall around her self and because of this she was perceived as a stubborn child this went on for a year. One faithful afternoon while Her is in Senior secondary school 2

Her's note book got damaged by one of Her's classmates and so she had to go to the principal office to get a new notebook, on getting there she knocked on the door and was told to come in when she came in there was man there who was applying for the position of a teacher in the school, Her then told the principal that she came for a new notebook and the principal said while talking to the man " if you get this Job stay away from this girl she is a prostitute and she sleeps around even with people fathers " Her stood there in her mind she had told her self that no one would make her cry again after that incident but she couldn't hold back her tears, as her tears rolled down her checks she said to the principal "you would regret this" Her ran out of the office to her aunties to ask to call her mum, when her mum picked she immediately told her mum what the principal said and Her's mum sacked the principal. After all this things Her kept leaving in a world of hate, but she decided that anything anybody thinks about her isn't her business, so she decided to do things that made her happy, faced her studies, shocked every body by scoring the highest in jamb in her set, she got 295, passed as one of the 5 top best at the West Africa certification exam of her set and left for the university. As much as the past of her being raped and getting hurt by her lovers, tormented she didn't let it weigh her free loving spirit down. Going to university opened a new chapter in Hers life.
